MILDRED RIPPEY: "IN CELEBRATION OF WOMEN"

Each year a day is set aside to honor Rockland County women whose achievements have enriched the lives of their families, friends, colleagues and communities. This year on April 24, at their 3rd annual "In Celebration of Women" ceremony, the Rockland County Women's Network and Rockland Community College, chose Mildred Post Rippey to receive their Personal Achievement award. Mildred was selected not only for her deep sense of personal fulfillment, and initiative, but also because of the inspiration she has shown to others. Her continual pursuit of knowledge and involvement in life will be acknowledged in June when she receives an Associate degree in the Arts from Rockland Community College.

In the past two years, twenty-five women have received awards in the Arts, Business and Industry, Communications, Education, Personal Achievement, Religion and Public and Community Service. In 1980, Fay Ellison, former Pastor of the Palisades Presbyterian Church was honored for her work in Religion.

Mildred, our congratulations, love and best wishes for the future.

BARBARA HOVSEPIAN

HORACE GREGORY, POET, CRITIC, ESSAYIST AND BIOGRAPHER

Horace Gregory, 83, died this spring in Shelburne Falls, Mass. only a few months after his wife, Marya Zaturenska. Until recently, Horace and Marya Gregory lived on Closter Road in Palisades and were special friends of the Palisades Library.

Mr. Gregory, a member of the National Academy-Institute of Arts and Letters, received the Bollingen Prize in 1965, regarded as the highest honor in American poetry. His wife, who wrote under the name Marya Zaturenska won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1938.

When Mr. Gregory's collected essays, "Spirit of Time and Place," appeared in 1973, Edgar Johnson, the Dickens biographer, said that "Mr. Gregory is not one of those scholar-critics who write only for other scholar-critics. He is a scholar without pedantry, who concentrates not on exhibitionism but illumination."

MEMORIAL DAY IN PALISADES

Monday, May 31, is the date for the Memorial Services to be held at the Liberty Pole on Rte. 9W in Palisades. This years ceremony promises to be as exciting as those in past years. There should be band music, fire engines, legionaires, an auxilliary group, organizations, fire men marching and a gun salute plus a speaker who will address us for the occasion. This is a day when we should all honor those who gave their lives for our country. We would not be enjoying and exercising our freedom if it were not for those men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice for all of us.

The line of march will start at Swan St. at 9 AM and progress to the Flag pole from there.

THE PALISADES NEW YORK FLAG POLE COMMITTEE

PALISADES NEW YORK SENIOR CITIZENS

are meeting as usual in the usual place, the Palisades Community Center. Our meeting days are the 2nd and 4th Thursday of the month except for July and August (no meetings). Would you like to hear fine music? We have a selection of tapes that can be enjoyed, we show fine films. Last meeting we all enjoyed a film on Helen Hayes. It ran for 90 pleasant and interesting minutes and was well received by all who viewed it. Helen Hayes herself is a Senior Citizen, has made many contributions of all kinds for her peers. We have had films on travel and it is so pleasant.

A MONUMENT FOR MOLLIE

IN
WHO DEPARTED THIS LIFE
JANUARY 31 AD 1810
AGED 101 YEARS
18 DAYS

LORD OF OUR DAYS, WHOSE HAND HATH SET
NEW TIME UPON OUR SCORE
THEE MAY WE PRAISE FOR ALL OUR TIME
WHEN TIME SHALL BE NO MORE

This epitaph appeared on the original gravestone of Mary (Mollie) Sneden. It disintegrated many years ago. However, the Historical Committee of the Palisades Free Library had a 1903 photograph of the stone. As the picture did not clearly show the words of the inscription, the Committee searched old records. The exact words were finally found by Helene Stansbury in a Dutch Reformed Church hymnal.

For a decade it has been proposed that the Sneden gravestone be replaced. The members of the Historical Committee have just erected a new stone at the head of Mollie's grave in the Palisades Cemetery. It is made of pink granite and should last for another two centuries.

The historical record is not entirely clear as to whether, during the Revolution, Mollie provided food and other necessities to the Patriots, the Tories, or to both. But before, during, and after the Revolution she was unquestionably this community's best known citizen. She died in 1810, but stories about her and her redoubtable career as the ferry woman continue to intrigue us. She lived at the foot of the hill for over a century, rowed the ferry across the river, had two daughters and seven sons, was suspected of Redcoat sympathies, and was, according to legend, able to bring down 100 passenger pigeons with one shot. She is but one of the many interesting men, women, and children buried in the Palisades Cemetery which is a valuable heritage to be appreciated by this community.

Anyone wishing to help pay the cost of the new monument may send contributions to the Historical Committee, Palisades Free Library, Palisades, New York, 10964.

After the nine o'clock ceremonies at the Flagpole on Memorial Day, May 31, there will be a gathering at Mollie's new tombstone. Members of the Historical Committee will also be glad to point out the grave of Captain Jonathan Lawrence, Jr., a Revolutionary soldier; those of the veterans of other wars; the oldest stone; that of Nicholas Gesner, whose diaries tell us about life here in the nineteenth century; and W.S. Gilman, Jr., who enthusiastically collected all kinds of information about Palisades and its families from the 17th century on, and gave it to the Library, where it can be read today.

PALISADES COMMUNITY CENTER

Please plan to join us on June 6th at 10:30 am for a "fun run". Adults and children of all ages are welcome to join in what we hope will be a fun day in Palisades. Early registration will be at the library plant sale and a flyer will also be available showing the route. Refreshments will be sold afterwards and, if the weather is good, perhaps a softball game later in the afternoon. Please join us for a pleasant day.

Our painting did not take place as planned due to the snow and rainy weather. Our painter has "promised" us he will start on Monday, May 3rd, rain or shine. If it rains, he will start inside the building with the kitchen. If the sun shines, he will start the outside. We have completed replacing three staircases which were very deteriorated. Our funds for the restoration are still at $3000. We need at least $1500 more to complete our plans. We need your financial help either by becoming members or a contribution. Please help us out if you have not already done so.

(Gregory)

His last book of poetry, "Another Look," came out in 1976. The critic R. W. Flint described Mr. Gregory as "a Depression poet, not a Villager of the first extraction, who wrote with muted eloquence in the highly civilized lilt of Manhattan-Hibernian Classic." Louis Untermeyer said that Mr. Gregory was under the spell of the Classicists until he saw the tenements of New York.

Mr. Gregory was born and grew up in Milwaukee. At one time he thought of becoming a painter, and studied at the Milwaukee School of Fine Arts for three years. "I decided to switch when I found myself writing poems on canvas," he later said. Mr. Gregory graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1923, and began writing poetry and criticism for the New Masses, New Republic and The Nation.

In addition to eight books of poetry, including "Collected Poems" in 1965, Mr. Gregory was known for his translations of the poems of Catullus and Ovid.

As a biographer, he wrote "The World of James McNeill Whistler" and "Amy Lowell." He also edited "Selected Poems of Robert Browning" and "The Portable Sherwood Anderson."

He began teaching at Sarah Lawrence in 1934 and became professor emeritus in 1960.

Horace and Marya Gregory are survived by a son, Patrick, of Northampton, Mass., a daughter, Joanna Zeigler of Edinburgh, Scotland, and five grandchildren.

RESTAURANT REVIEW

Due to over indulging before and during the Easter holidays and the resulting excess poundage, there will be no review this month.

In the March review of the Old Stonehouse Inn, I said I preferred my heavy cream to be freshly whipped, not out of a can. I stand corrected by owner, Dennis Kaloostian. He told me they use heavy cream, confectioners sugar, and vanilla, mixed in an automatic high pressure container and served from the same container. My apologies.
